DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The use of the trademark LYCRA has been noted in this application. It should be capitalized wherever it appears and be accompanied by the generic terminology, spandex.

Although the use of trademarks is permissible in patent applications, the proprietary nature of the marks should be respected and every effort made to prevent their use in any manner which might adversely affect their validity as trademarks.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-7 and 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Edmund (us 3,771,169).

Edmund discloses the access and egress wet suit with a gusset at the hand and foot openings with releasable closures wherein the gusset is in the shape of a triangle(30) in figure 1. The closures are on the outside surface and are “inside” as broadly claimed in that they are “inside” the legs. The gussets are in the arm 22 and leg 35 portions and are sized as broadly claimed. The gusset on the sleeve is also substantially rectangular cut as seen in figure 1 , The wet suit is also in two pieces 12,14. (See Edmund, figures 1, 4, 7-9; col.2,line 62-col.3,line 65).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Edmund (US 3,771,169) in view of Clement (US 5,711,031).

Edmund discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Edmund does not specifically disclose the fastener as being hook and loop fasteners. Clement discloses closing a gusset with hook and loop fasteners 20,22 in order to don and doff the garment by expanding the gusset as desired. Col. 2, Lines 40-54; figures 1-2).

Accordingly it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the gusset of Edmunds to substitute the zipper closure with hook and loop fasteners as disclosed by Clement for greater ease in opening and closing the gusset as desired.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
